HIGH QUALITY, ETHICAL, & LOCAL

We source our ingredients and products locally when feasible. As a small, mission-based business, we aim to support other local companies with a similar ethos and passion for quality.

Our cold brew and decaf are Rising Star's house blends. All of our other coffee and espresso drinks are made using our custom "Get Off The Counter" blend chosen by our supporters and produced by Rising Star. We also sell this coffee to brew at home! Rising Star has 2 core values: bring a quality product to their community to create a destination for cultural exchange, and facilitate a positive impact on the industry and supply chain by paying farmers fair prices.

Storehouse Tea

All of our tea-based drinks are brewed to order using a variety of Storehouse's loose leaf teas. They believe in making an impact on current and future generations and the earth we all share, which is why they source and blend certified Organic and Fair Trade Teas, from sustainable farmers both locally and internationally. We employ locals, recent immigrants and refugees from around the world to small batch hand blend and package our teas.

Hartzler

For our dairy-based drinks, we use Hartzler whole milk.

Hartzler Family Dairy strives to provide wholesome products that are minimally processed, healthy, and tasty.

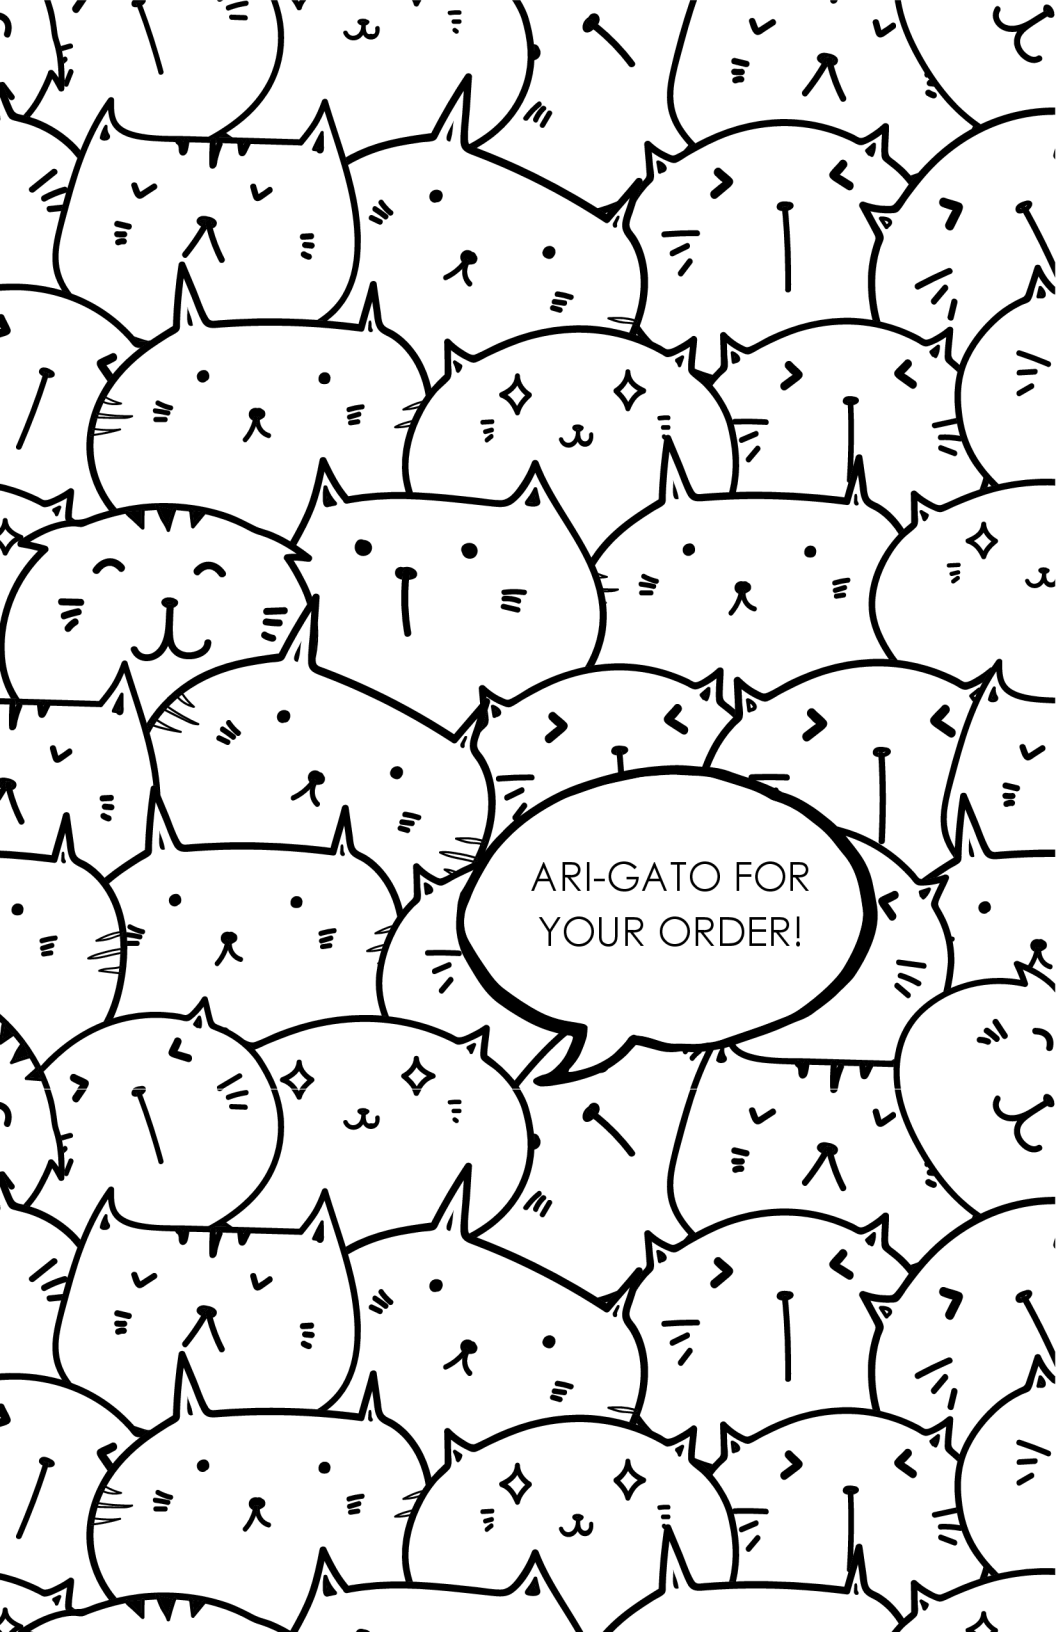

Their cows are pasture-fed in the warm months and fed silage and hay in the colder months. Their cows are not given artificial hormones which keeps their milk free from hormones. In the fields, sustainable farming practices are used to grow crops.

We also stock some locally produced souvenirs, gifts, and art in our cafe side! We pay local makers whatever amount they decide is fair (to avoid the online “race to the bottom”), paid up-front so they can focus on their art rather than waiting for commissions.

If you’re not sure which products are local, or want to know more about the makers, we’re always happy to chat!
